Lister Surgical Skills Competition 2011-2012

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh is delighted to announce an exciting competition for senior medical students in the UK.

Students from around the UK will compete in a series of regional heats, those with the best surgical skills then going on to compete in a Grand Final which will take place in Edinburgh in February 2012 as part of the Lister Centenary Celebrations.

There are fantastic prizes on offer for those who compete, so if you are a budding surgeon who will be in your 3rd, 4th or 5th year of medical school in Autumn 2011, register your interest today at
